Dear Dick:

As discussed over the phone the Alaska Department of Fish and Game Sport Fish Division is exploring the possibility for enhancing recreation on the Ketchikan road system. We are tentatively exploring stocking rainbow trout/steelhead into Harriet Hunt Lake. To accomplish this enhancement project we would require a gabbon trickle-dam at the outlet of Harriet Hunt Lake.

Since this is Cape Fox Corporation property we would like to request your Board of Directors to consider granting the Department written permission to place and maintain a gabbon dam at the outlet of the lake. The project would be a long term project if successful. Dam would be removed at termination of project.

I have enclosed a diagram of a trickle dam so you will be aware of what the dam would look like in the stream. The dam may back up some water, but does allow water to flow through and stops fish passage.

This request is our first step in starting the program. If approval is granted we would then develop engineering plans, ^{and} conduct lake surveys for final dam design and location.

We anticipate all materials to be assembled in town and hauled by truck to Harriet Hunt and flown to and placed by helicopter at the dam site.

Sincerely,

Donald Siedelman

Dear Don:

Your request to consider locating a gabbon dam on the subject site was briefly discussed by our board at their regular meeting of October 30, 1982. The result of the discussion was that, in principal, Cape Fox Corporation is supportive of any efforts to enhance recreation and fishing at this and other sites which may be identified in the future. Our affirmative response is conditioned on the presumption that negative impacts such as trash and security problems can be overcome by agreement and that such a project can be proved to have a net positive impact on the adjacent lands and waters.

In sum, then, what we will need in order to take further action on your proposal is to review the specifics of your project including the proposed agreement document, proposed positive impacts of the project, methods of mitigating the negative impacts and other information you feel will be helpful in making a final decision. Since you may wish to have access to this tract to conduct certain studies or surveys in this matter, I have included herewith our special permit to provide access to this tract for such purposes. Please validate this permit by your signature and return to me.

Please feel free to call on us anytime for further assistance in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

CAPE FOX CORPORATION
